

DEPARTMENT OF MODERN LANGUAGES, LITERATURES AND CULTURES
POSITION#: VPA-MLLC-2018-001

The Department of Modern Languages, Literatures and Cultures invites applications for a tenure track position in Quebec Studies, with a sub-specialty in French language minorities in Canada.

The Department of Modern Languages, Literatures and Cultures currently offers an undergraduate Major and Minor in French as well as a Master in French Studies and a Master of Arts and Education offered jointly with the Faculty of Education. In addition to interdisciplinary collaboration among colleagues in Arts and Education, the Department also has connections with community organizations.

The position requires a completed doctoral degree in Quebec Studies. A completed earned doctorate (or recognized terminal qualification in the discipline) is required for the appointee to receive the rank of Assistant Professor and to be in a tenure-track position. (If a successful candidate has not completed an earned doctorate, he/she shall be appointed to a regular term, non-renewable three-year appointment. If the candidate completes all the requirements for the doctorate during the first 24 months of the term appointment, he/she shall begin a tenure-track appointment following completion of the requirements of the degree.) The applicant must demonstrate research interest in French language minorities in Canada, with experience in teaching and research; ability to teach undergraduate courses in French language, literatures and cultures at all levels, and to supervise graduate students. Candidates must have a native or near-native fluency in French, as well as a strong command of oral and written English.

Letters of application should be accompanied by a current curriculum vitae (both documents in English and French), a scholarly writing sample (no more than 30 pages), a teaching dossier, and three letters of reference. Additional materials may be requested.

Applications and letters of reference should be sent electronically to Dr. Philippe Basabose, Head, Department of Modern Languages, Literatures and Cultures at basabose@mun.ca no later than October 26, 2018. For further information, please email Dr. Basabose.

Memorial University is committed to employment equity and encourages applications from qualified women and men, visible minorities, aboriginal people and persons with disabilities. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply, however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.
