

“Looking South: Reexamining Historical Realities, Literatures, and Legacies of Slavery in Louisiana and the French Caribbean”

Panel (Sponsored by Pi Delta Phi, the National French Honor Society)

Organizer: E. Joe Johnson, Clayton State University, joejohnson@clayton.edu

This panel seeks papers with new takes on the history, literature, and legacies of Creole culture, racial discrimination, and enslavement of Blacks in the Francophone cultures of Louisiana and the Caribbean. Please send all paper proposals to Session Organizer Dr. E. Joe Johnson at this address: joejohnson@clayton.edu and submit to the ACQS submission site with the panel title listed: “Looking South: Reexamining Historical Realities, Literatures, and Legacies of Slavery in Louisiana and the French Caribbean”